This is a dream opportunity to join a great cowboy photographer on the picturesque o6 Ranch and their cowboy crew on an actual working day during their fall roundup. Wyman Meinzer will help to get you into position for great shots without interfering with the work going on. You will need to bring your own equipment, water, sun or weather protection, etc. The workshop will be limited to ten participants at $300/each. Participants will meet during the symposium to work out logistics, but you will leave very early Sunday morning and return to Alpine in early afternoon.
